Gemini Spacemen Get Final Checkups

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Two healthy young men see their doctor today for checkups they probably don't need.

The medical examinations for astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II were necessary to provide data for comparison with that gathered during and after their flight in the Gemini 4 spacecraft.

The countdown begins Wednesday for a Thursday morning launch of the two-man spacecraft on the nation's longest and most spectacular space journey yet.

Christopher C. Kraft, Project Gemini director, planned an all-afternoon session with the astronauts, their doctor, the people who have babied the spacecraft and its Titan 2 booster rocket, weathermen, guidance technicians and range supervisors. It's a mission review meeting to determine that everyone is ready and the countdown can begin.

McDivitt and White will attempt a world first — a rendezvous mission in which they will maneuver their craft close to another orbiting satellite, their worn-out second-stage booster, White, connected to the spacecraft by a 25-foot tether, will step into space while traveling 17,500 miles per hour and move to within 20 feet of the tumbling booster. He will remain out of the spacecraft for 10 to 12 minutes, taking pictures.

The prime objective of their 97-hour, 50-minute flight is to provide Dr. Charles A. Berry, the space agency's chief of medical operations, with information on the effects of prolonged exposure of man to the weightless, airless vacuum beyond the atmosphere.

Written in Berry's appointment book for the two Air Force major today were a three-hour lip-to-toe medical examination, and a session on the tilt table.

Berry wants to measure the effects of prolonged weightlessness on the cardiovascular system — the heart and blood vessels. By comparing the astronauts' blood pressures, blood volumes, pulse rates and electrocardiograms before and after the flight, he can evaluate the changes that are caused by heat stress, prolonged confinement, dehydration, fatigue, and weightlessness.

The measurements are taken on a table before and after the astronauts are tilted at an 80-degree angle. The same thing will be done on the aircraft carrier Wasp immediately after they return from space.

Monday, McDivitt and White spent more time in a flight simulator practicing highlights of their mission. They also studied the flight plan for several hours.

Old Astronauts To Brief Rookies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — What can experienced space travelers tell two rookies?

Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young — the first manned Gemini mission crew — believe they can make the four-day flight James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II are to start Thursday a bit easier.

"I plan to sit down with them and talk it over," he said. Grissom is the only man to have flown in space twice.

Young said he had written a 50- to 60-page report on personal observations made while he and Grissom orbited the earth three times during the first manned Gemini flight March 23.

"They are free to take the report any way they want to," said Young, "but to try to help those guys, to minimize any new type experience for them — well, they're going to have to live in that baby four days. It's going to be a tough mission."

Young says he will tell McDivitt and White not to be shocked when the sheet of fire closes around the spacecraft after the first-stage engine shuts down and the second-stage engine starts.

"It was a surprise for me," Young said. "You get this flash of light, what we call fire in the hole. It's instantaneous. It's like all of a sudden you see it, and then you don't. You don't have time to even think about it. Gus knew about it, so it didn't surprise him.

Young said the four-day mission would be the "proof of the pudding as far as the spacecraft is concerned."

"I don't think there's anything the man has to do in the four days that he can't do, but it will be a good systems test," he said. "A really good systems test for extended mission operation for Gemini."

A big surprise, the jolt that comes when the landing-parachute system changes from a one-point suspension to two-points, won't be a shock to McDivitt and White. They will be ready for it, which was more than Grissom and Young were.

"My feeling is that it's a damned hard rap," Grissom (Continued on Page 5)

Rose-Scented Greased Pig Causes Fuss

SAN MARCOS, Calif. (AP) — This Southern California resort community is divided by a sticky question.

Is it cruel to chase a greased pig that smells like a rose?

Planners of the North San Diego County Country Fair say they intend to hold greased-pig races throughout the fair, Thursday through Sunday, as an event "as traditionally American as Fourth of July oratory."

The California branch of the U.S. Humane Society has asked sheriff's officers to halt the race, saying it would be "harassment of an animal."

"It is hypocritical to criticize this mild amusement while permitting rodeos and horse racing," replied Ralph Prater, fair president.

Besides, he said, the pig will be greased with a $25-per-ounce cosmetic cream, to render the race sweeter to both pig and pursuer.

Pacific Recovery Units Ready for Space Shot

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — Four 7th Fleet destroyers left today for mid-Pacific recovery stations for the Gemini 4 space flight Thursday.

Although the spacecraft carrying astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II is scheduled to land in the Atlantic, Pacific recovery units will remain on station throughout the flight in case recovery in their area is necessary.

NEWEST FOR U.S. — The SLV-5, with 2 million pounds lift-off thrust, is the newest U.S. space launch vehicle. It is sitting on its pad at Cape Kennedy, awaiting a scheduled June launch. Its thrust is more than four times that of the Titan-2 which launches the Gemini astronauts.

LBJ Wants To Be Right And Be President, Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told what he called the concerned, committed younger generation today he believes in debate on the nation's policies in time of danger, but said he must proceed on the course he believes is right, regardless of criticism.

The President hit this central theme in a commencement address to the graduating class at the National Cathedral School for Girls, his daughter, Luci, 17, was one of the graduates at the private school.

Johnson told young Americans to use their talents to help in the struggle of the world's poor to create a better life. He said this is a moral commitment.

But mainly the President talked of something to which he said he has given much thought.

He said that he knows the large majority of Americans support the effort everywhere to stop aggression but he also knows discussion is one of the great strengths of American democracy.

Johnson referred to Henry Clay's remark that he would rather be right than president and added a bit plaintively:

"Well, I must try to be both. I must try as best I can, and with whatever help God chooses to give me, to seek the right course, not only for myself but for a nation."

"And as president I must act — often swiftly and decisively — accordingly to that judgment."

"So we will proceed with the course we are on — glad of the overwhelming support of the American people — always open to criticism and the flow of ideas but proceeding as we believe we must however the transient winds of opinion blow."

"This, I believe, is what the American people expect of their president."

"That is what they shall receive from me."

The proud father and commencement orator told the graduates they were all young and beautiful at a wonderful moment.

"And it is nice of you," the President said, "to let a much older and rather solemn man talk to you about his problems. I hope you know how it lifts my heart to see you, and to know a little of what I do may possibly enrich your lives."

Red China Claims 'Right' To Intervene in Viet Nam

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Communist China said today it has a right to intervene in Viet Nam "now that U.S. imperialism has sent large reinforcements of troops to South Viet Nam and carried still further its bombing attacks on North Viet Nam."

An article in the official Peking People's Daily said the U.S. military buildup entitled the Chinese "to do all in their power to aid the Vietnamese people in counterattacking U.S. aggressors."

Two American Army advisers were reported killed today and a third wounded in a Viet Cong ambush near Pleiku, 220 miles northeast of Saigon.

The toll of American dead in combat in Viet Nam rose to 395 since December 1961. Two other Americans were killed over the weekend in the heavy fighting in Quang Ngai in which an estimated 600 Viet Cong and more than 500 South Vietnamese troops were casualties.

At least six Americans were wounded in scattered ground and air actions during the past two days, U.S. military spokesmen said.

U.S. Navy planes hit again at targets in North Viet Nam and one F8 Crusader was shot down by anti-aircraft fire. The pilot ejected over the sea, a spokesman said, and was picked up in good condition about 10 minutes later by a rescue plane.

The Navy pilots said they dropped two tons of bombs on a railroad yard at Vinh, about 160 miles south of Hanoi, but were unable to assess the damage. They said they caused moderate damage to three boxcars near Quang Phong, about 125 miles south of Hanoi, and bombed Route 15 just north of Vinh, making the road impassable at that point.

American officials said Vietnamese army sources reported the Viet Cong ambushed a convoy en route from Pleiku to relieve a district headquarters under attack at Le Thanh. Five Americans were reported with the convoy.

Air support was sent to the scene and troops were rushed there by helicopter. Late reports indicated government forces were in control of the ambush site.

The fighting near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai tapered off Monday but Viet Cong terrorists exploded four bombs Monday night in a Vietnamese army compound in downtown Quang Ngai.

The blasts set fire to a police station but caused only one casualty. The raiders apparently were trying to kill the commander of the Vietnamese army's 2nd Division and other high-ranking officers in the compound.

Vietnamese military sources said they believed the Viet Cong had a division of men in the general area of Quang Ngai Province. U.S. military officials said the number probably was from one to two regiments.

Road Assistance Move Protested

A move by the Pickaway Board of Commissioners to provide financial aid for road improvements in townships of the county has met a stumbling block.

A letter from County Engineer Henry McCrady protesting the action was brought to the Commission's attention today. The objection notes that the engineering department is aware of no authority that would permit the Commission to instruct or order the engineer "to give away monies assigned to his office."

The letter of protest is based on a motion approved by the solons last week that authorized financial assistance for road improvements in Salt Creek Twp. Several other townships have asked for similar aid.

According to the motion, the money would come from the county auto license and gasoline tax fund under which the engineer's department operates.

However, McCrady's letter indicated that the administrative operation is under the province of the engineer's office, not the County Commission.

ALL THREE solons voted in favor of the assistance for Salt Creek Twp. last week. They hinted then that similar help would be made available to other townships in serious need of road improvement aid.

Solon Charles Morris said today that he will offer a motion to the board requesting an opinion from the Ohio Attorney General. He added that he would ask for an opinion on his own if the Board fails to approve the motion.

Morris said if the motion is approved, it will be submitted through the local prosecutor's office. The opinion request, he said, will be based on whether or not a county commission can authorize funds to assist township road improvements.

Morris asserted that road maintenance assistance has been provided for townships in previous years. He said he cannot understand why it isn't being done now.

The authorization for assistance in Salt Creek calls for $100 per mile for the township's 39 miles of roads. It was indicated the same formula would be used for other townships authorized to receive aid.

OAS Seeks Control Of Dominican Palace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Organization of American States planned more negotiations with the Dominican junta today in an effort to extend the international security zone around the National Palace a block from rebel lines.

The junta president, Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, declared that his regime would never let the OAS take control of the battered former seat of government now held by about 350 junta troops.

"Under no circumstances will the OAS or any other foreign element be permitted to take over the National Palace," Imbert told a reporter. "Only junta representatives and junta forces will be allowed in the palace and adjoining grounds."

Col. Francisco Caamano Dengo, chief of the rebel force, told a news conference he had agreed to extend the security zone boundaries to take in the three-story structure occupied briefly and sacked by insurgent troops when the civil war erupted in April.

Latin American soldiers in the Inter-American Force could patrol the security zone line around the palace, he said. But he demanded that only a token force of junta troops be allowed to remain inside.

The rebels believe this would prevent the junta from using the palace as a base for an assault on the insurgent stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo.

Extension of the zone to include the palace grounds and an adjoining street was discussed for more than two hours Monday by Gen. Telmo Vargas, military adviser to OAS Secretary-General Jose A. Mora, and the military chiefs of the junta regime.

The palace is located in a buffer area between the security zone on the west and rebel lines to the east. Armed reinforcements are not allowed to cross the security zone to the palace.

Robbed Boy Gets 1 1/2 Bicycles Plus $105 in Cash

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Gilbert Rodriguez has 1 1/2 bicycles and $105.

His mother, Mrs. Gilbert Rodriguez said, "We are trying to show him there is a lesson here — that there are more good people than bad and someday he might be able to help a boy, too."

Gilbert had saved for almost a year to get $30 to buy a new bicycle with a 10-speed gear. Within 24 hours it was stolen. The 9-year-old vented his grief in a newspaper personal ad addressed to the thief: "May you enjoy the bike."

A man in Blairsville, Pa., read an Associated Press story about Gilbert and sent him $35.

Another man left a $55, 10-speed bike for Gilbert at a department store with instructions to keep his name secret.

Another sent a bicycle his sons had outgrown but minus the front wheel.

High Court Prods States

One-Man, One-Vote Stand Is Stressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court in a series of legislative apportionment cases stuck firmly today to the one-man-one-vote rule it adopted last year but prodded state authorities and lower courts to work out the process for themselves.

The high court:

1. Declined to interfere with the order of a three-judge court for a special election of the New York Legislature next fall under a redistricting plan adopted by a lame duck, Republican-dominated legislature. The terms of those elected are to run for only one year while further reapportionment activity goes on.

2. Gave jurisdiction to the Illinois Supreme Court to supervise that state's reapportionment proceedings, holding that a three-judge federal court in Chicago should not have stepped in. The ruling, however, gave the lower federal court leeway to step in again if a valid representation system is not worked out in timely fashion.

3. Affirmed without detailed comment an order from another three-judge court for reapportionment of California's Senate by July 1.

4. Decided not to intervene in an Idaho reapportionment case, ruling that the matter is now in position for action by a three-judge U.S. District Court on the validity of a redistricting system worked out by a special session of the legislature last March.

The high court's most specific statement of its position came in the unsigned order in the Illinois case.

Holding that the lower federal court should have stayed its hand, the Supreme Court said:

"The power of the judiciary of a state to require valid reapportionment or to formulate a valid redistricting plan has not only been recognized by this court, but appropriate action by the states in such cases has been specifically encouraged."

"The case is remanded with directions that the District Court enter an order fixing a reasonable time within which the appropriate agencies within the State of Illinois, including its Supreme Court, may validly redistrict the Illinois State Senate; provided that the same be accomplished within ample time to permit such plan to be utilized in the 1966 election of the members of the State Senate, in accordance with the provisions of the Illinois election laws."

Justice John M. Harlan, who had held a hearing May 27 on an application for a stay of the lower court's order for a New York election, dissented from the finding of the full court, criticizing what he called the tribunal's "casual way of disposing of this matter."

In the California case Harlan wrote an opinion concurring "reluctantly" in the finding, and was joined by Justices Tom C. Clark and Potter Stewart.

It was noted, without further comment, that Harlan concurred in the Illinois finding. Justice Arthur J. Goldberg took no part in that case.

In his critical acceptance of the decision on California redistricting, Harlan wrote that he would have voted to hear the issue if he had been able to detect in any of the high court's previous rulings "the slightest basis for optimism that the court might consider last term's reapportionment pronouncements to leave room for the people of a state to choose for themselves the kind of legislative structure they wish to have — at least when the democratic processes employed are as straightforward and flexible as those of California."

Tall Stories Are Heard by Game Warden

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I'm just holding a pole for a friend."

"I wasn't fishing. Just giving the worm swimming lessons."

These are among the tall fishing tales Fred Schob, enforcement supervisor for the 19-county Northeastern District of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, says his crew of seven game wardens heard as they check hundreds of fishermen for licenses over the Memorial Day weekend.

Some 2,000 fishermen in Cuyahoga and Lorain counties were checked. Fifty-six were cited for fishing without licenses.

A classic story came from two men cited for fishing from a boat near Edgewater Park. "We got lost and thought these were Canadian waters," the game warden was told.

Said one warden: "If you think those excuses are original, wait until they get to Municipal Court. The excuses there will probably bring even me to tears."

If the fishermen fail to lure the judge with their excuses, they could receive maximum fines of $200 each.

Lebanon Holds 6 As Yegg Suspects

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Acting on an anonymous tip, officers from the Warren County Sheriff's Office arrested six suspected safe crackers early today along a road near Franklin and found a safe that had been stolen from the Butler County Juvenile Court branch at Middletown.

The safe had been opened. Several other members of the gang are being sought.

Officers said the safe had contained about $1,500, most of it in checks and part of the loot was believed to be missing, apparently taken by the men being sought.

Road Assistance Move Protested

A move by the Pickaway Board of Commissioners to provide financial aid for road improvements in townships of the county has met a stumbling block.

A letter from County Engineer Henry McCrady protesting the action was brought to the Commission's attention today. The objection notes that the engineering department is aware of no authority that would permit the Commission to instruct or order the engineer "to give away monies assigned to his office."

The letter of protest is based on a motion approved by the solons last week that authorized financial assistance for road improvements in Saltcreek Twp. Several other townships have asked for similar aid.

According to the motion, the money would come from the county auto license and gasoline tax fund under which the engineer's department operates. However, McCrady's letter indicated that the administrative operation is under the province of the engineer's office, not the County Commission.

ALL THREE solons voted in favor of the assistance for Saltcreek Twp. last week. They hinted then that similar help would be made available to other townships in serious need of road improvement aid.

Solon Charles Morris said today that he will offer a motion to the board requesting an opinion from the Ohio Attorney-General. He added that he would ask for an opinion on his own if the Board fails to approve the motion.

Morris said if the motion is approved, it will be submitted through the local prosecutor's office. The opinion request, he said, will be based on whether Morris asserted that road maintenance assistance has been provided for townships in previous years. He said he cannot understand why it isn't being done now.

The authorization for assistance in Saltcreek calls for $100 per mile for the township's 39 miles of roads. It was indicated the same formula would be used for other townships authorized to receive aid.

OAS Seeks Control Of Dominica Palace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Organization of American States planned more negotiations with the Dominican junta today in an effort to extend the international security zone around the National Palace a block from rebel lines.

The junta president, Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, declared that his regime would never let the OAS take control of the battered former seat of government now held by about 350 junta troops.

"Under no circumstances will the OAS or any other foreign element be permitted to take over the National Palace," Imbert told a reporter. "Only junta representatives and junta forces will be allowed in the palace and adjoining grounds."

Col. Francisco Caamaño Deno, chief of the rebel force, told a news conference he had agreed to extend the security zone boundaries to take in the three-story structure occupied briefly and sacked by insurgent troops when the civil war erupted in April.

Latin American soldiers in the Inter-American Force could patrol the security zone line around the palace, he said. But he demanded that only a token force of junta troops be allowed to remain inside.

The rebels believe this would prevent the junta from using the palace as a base for an assault on the insurgent stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo.

Extension of the zone to include the palace grounds and an adjoining street was discussed for more than two hours Monday by Gen. Telmo Vargas, military adviser to OAS Secretary-General Jose A. Mora, and the military chiefs of the junta regime.

The palace is located in a buffer area between the security zone on the west and rebel lines to the east. Armed reinforcements are not allowed to cross the security zone to the palace.

Robbed Boy Gets

1½ Bicycles Plus

$105 in Cash

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Gilbert Rodriguez has 1½ bicycles and $105.

His mother, Mrs. Gilbert Rodriguez, said, "We are trying to show him there is a lesson here — that there are more good people than bad and someday he might be able to help a boy, too."

Gilbert had saved for almost a year to get $30 to buy a new bicycle with a 10-speed gear. Within 24 hours it was stolen. The 9-year-old vented his grief in a newspaper personal ad addressed to the thief: "May you enjoy the bike—"

A man in Blairsville, Pa., read an Associated Press story about Gilbert and sent him $35. Another man left a $55, 10-speed bike for Gilbert at a department store with instructions to keep his name secret.

Another sent a bicycle his sons had outgrown but minus the front wheel.

High Court Prods States

One-Man, One-Vote Stand Is Stressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court in a series of legislative apportionment cases stuck firmly today to the one-man-one-vote rule it adopted last year but prodded state authorities and lower courts to work out the process for themselves.

The high court: 1. Declined to interfere with the order of a three-judge court for a special election of the New York Legislature next fall under a redistricting plan adopted by a lame duck, Republican-dominated legislature. The terms of those elected are to run for only one year while further reapportionment activity goes on.

2. Gave jurisdiction to the Illinois Supreme Court to supervise that state's reapportionment proceedings, holding that a three-judge federal court in Chicago should not have stepped in. The ruling, however, gave the lower federal court leeway to step in again if a valid representation system is not worked out in timely fashion.

3. Affirmed without detailed comment an order from another three-judge court for reapportionment of California's Senate by July 1.

4. Declined to intervene in an Idaho reapportionment case, ruling that the matter is now in position for action by a three-judge U.S. District Court on the validity of a redistricting system worked out by a special session of the legislature last March.

The high court's most specific statement of its position came in the unsigned order in the Illinois case.

Holding that the lower federal court should have stayed its hand, the Supreme Court said:

"The power of the judiciary of a state to require valid reapportionment or to formulate a valid redistricting plan has not only been recognized by this court, but appropriate action by the states in such cases has been specifically encouraged."

"The case is remanded with directions that the District Court enter an order fixing a reasonable time within which the appropriate agencies within the State of Illinois, including its Supreme Court, may validly redistrict the Illinois State Senate; provided that the same be accomplished within ample time to permit such plan to be utilized in the 1966 election of the members of the State Senate, in accordance with the provisions of the Illinois election laws."

Justice John M. Harlan, who had held a hearing May 27 on an application for a stay of the lower court's order for a New York election, dissented from the finding of the full court, criticizing what he called the tribunal's "casual way of disposing of this matter."

In the California case Harlan wrote an opinion concurring "reluctantly" in the finding, and was joined by Justices Tom C. Clark and Potter Stewart.

It was noted, without further comment, that Harlan concurred in the Illinois finding. Justice Arthur J. Goldberg took no part in that case.

In his critical acceptance of the decision on California redistricting, Harlan wrote that he would have voted to hear the issue if he had been able to detect in any of the high court's previous rulings "the slightest basis for optimism that the court might consider last term's reapportionment pronouncements to leave room for the people of a state to choose for themselves the kind of legislative structure they wish to have — at least when the democratic processes employed are as straightforward and flexible as those of California."

Tall Stories Are Heard by Game Warden

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I'm just holding a pole for a friend."

"I wasn't fishing. Just giving the worm swimming lessons."

These are among the tall fishing tales Fred Schob, enforcement supervisor for the 19-county Northeastern District of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, says his crew of seven game wardens heard as they check hundreds of fishermen for licenses over the Memorial Day weekend.

Some 2,000 fishermen in Cuyahoga and Lorain counties were checked. Fifty-six were cited for fishing without licenses.

A classic story came from two men cited for fishing from a boat near Edgewater Park. "We got lost and thought these were Canadian waters," the game warden was told.

Said one warden: "If you think those excuses are original, wait until they get to Municipal Court. The excuses there will probably bring even me to tears."

If the fishermen fail to lure the judge with their excuses, they could receive maximum fines of $200 each.

Lebanon Holds 6 As Yegg Suspects

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Acting on an anonymous tip, officers from the Warren County Sheriff's Office arrested six suspected safe crackers early today along a road near Franklin and found a safe that had been stolen from the Butler County Juvenile Court branch at Middletown.

The safe had been opened. Several other members of the gang are being sought.

Officers said the safe had contained about $1,500, most of it in checks and part of the loot was believed to be missing, apparently taken by the men being sought.

One Injury Accident Mars Extended Holiday Weekend

Pickaway County Highways were comparatively accident-free during the extended Memorial Day weekend.

The lone injury accident reported by the Pickaway Sheriff's Department and the Ohio Highway Patrol occurred 10:45 a. m. Saturday on Route 23 near the intersection of Route 22.

The car-truck collision sent seven persons to Berger Hospital for emergency first aid.

The list of injured included Marshall P. Kelley 47, Mentor, the driver of the car; Recie Kelley 47, Thurman Kelley 14, Edith Kelley 16, Richard Music, 20, all passengers in the car; James Roach 47, Columbus; Goldie Roach 62, Columbus, the driver and passenger in the truck.

Three of the injured were admitted to Columbus Hospitals.

Marshall Kelley was listed in satisfactory condition in University Hospital with lacerations of the arm, face and head and possible chest injuries.

Richard Music was also admitted to University hospital. He sustained a possible head concussion, lacerations of the face and back.

Mrs. Roach suffered lacerations of the right arm, forehead and a possible fractured back. She was admitted to Riverside Hospital.

The other four persons injured were released after receiving treatment.

The report filed by Deputy Sheriff George Linder stated that Roach, who was attempting to turn into the right hand lane of traffic was stopped.

His truck was struck in the rear by the car driven by Kelley.

Roach was cited to appear in Circleville Municipal court for stopping on the traveled portion of the highway and Kelley for failure to maintain an assured clear distance within which to stop.

One Injury Accident Mars Extended Holiday Weekend

Pickaway County Highways were comparatively accident-free during the extended Memorial Day weekend.

The lone injury accident reported by the Pickaway Sheriff's Department and the Ohio Highway Patrol occurred 10:45 a. m. Saturday on Route 23 near the intersection of Route 22.

The car-truck collision sent seven persons to Berger Hospital for emergency first aid.

The list of injured included Marshall P. Kelley 47, Mentor, the driver of the car; Recie Kelley 47, Thurman Kelley 14, Edith Kelley 16, Richard Music, 20, all passengers in the car; James Roach 47, Columbus; Goldie Roach 62, Columbus, the driver and passenger in the truck.

Three of the injured were admitted to Columbus Hospitals.

Marshall Kelley was listed in satisfactory condition in University Hospital with lacerations of the arm, face and head and possible chest injuries.

Richard Music was also admitted to University hospital. He sustained a possible head concussion, lacerations of the face and back.

Mrs. Roach suffered lacerations of the right arm, forehead and a possible fractured back. She was admitted to Riverside Hospital.

The other four persons injured were released after receiving treatment.

The report filed by Deputy Sheriff George Linder stated that Roach, who was attempting to turn into the right hand lane of traffic was stopped.

His truck was struck in the rear by the car driven by Kelley.

Roach was cited to appear in Circleville Municipal court for stopping on the traveled portion of the highway and Kelley for failure to maintain an assured clear distance within which to stop.

Latin Reds Fail To Reap Harvest

LIMA, Peru (AP) — As of now, any Communist-Castroist threat to capitalize on the Dominican Republic crisis seems to have collapsed in Latin America like a punctured balloon.

Danger that extremists still will try remains, but there is no indication they are ready to take full advantage of what ordinarily would be an attractive opportunity for them.

Their confusion seems to stem from the split in the world Communist movement, with its incessant warfare between pro-Chinese and pro-Moscow elements. In this country, as in others in Latin America, the two wings are industriously beating one another over the head with words.

The danger stems from a likelihood that the Dominican crisis will impel the two Communist wings to compete in taking advantage of it.

The failure of the extreme left to spark widespread violence in the wake of the Dominican situation leads the experienced observer in Latin America to suspect that what happened in Santo Domingo on April 24, when "constitutionalist" officers staged their revolt, was as much a surprise to Communists in this area as to any one else.

There have been reports in Santo Domingo and elsewhere that the revolt was part of a carefully considered plot, and these persist, on the assumption that the Communists are lying low waiting for the next phase of a long-range plan. But in the present state of Castroism and the world communism movement's confusion, it seems difficult to credit anything so Machiavellian.

Attempts in other countries to spark violence in response to the Dominican events seemed uncoordinated, improvised and poorly executed. The extremist elements appeared to have been unready for this crisis.

Even in the universities, ordinarily hotbeds of Castro-Communist agitation, extremists seem to be starting to lose some of their punch.

These days something new appears to be developing in the universities. Many students now are truly students, anxious to catch up with the 20th century, spurred by their countries' future prospects.

The superabundance of students in law and humanities, preparing for careers of politics, is beginning to decline.

Prospects are that this downward trend will develop and have a profound impact on Latin-American politics. It can produce resistance to interminable student turmoil among young men with no place to go except into politics and no way to get to the top save through demagoguery.

Here in Peru, the public attitude toward the Dominican crisis has developed from an initial sort of shocked surprise at the U.S. action to something closely approaching apathy, despite public denunciations of Washington emanating daily from Peruvian leaders.

The politicians evidently consider denouncing Washington a political necessity. But even these outbursts are tapering off, and the U.S. side of the story gradually is making its way into the press.

A leftist magazine, for instance, polled public opinion — what it called a true cross section — and came up with results which surprised the magazine's editors themselves, who conceded: "The revolution has not been to the extent we thought."

Of those polled, more than 25 per cent thought the U.S. action in Santo Domingo justified, a third would say only that it might have been hasty and only a third would say outright it was wrong. The remaining few had no opinion.

Economist Cautions on Price Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House's chief economist poked a warning finger last week at price increases.

The warning came as Washington was issuing two other broad business statements: one, that Americans still are in a buying mood; and two, that living costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in April, the biggest monthly jump since last July.

Increases in the cost of food, clothing, transportation and medical care boosted the Labor Department's consumer price index to 109.3, a new high.

This meant that in April it cost $10.93 to purchase typical goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period. The increase was the biggest for April since 1960.

However, government officials said the monthly jump in the cost-of-living index did not necessarily indicate an inflationary trend.

"We'll have to see what happens the rest of the year," said one Labor Department official.

Other talk about prices came from Gardner Ackley, President Johnson's top economic aide and chairman of the President's Council on Economic Advisors.

"The number of announcements of price increases seems to be accelerating," Ackley told a group of businessmen. "There is just enough movement in prices to be disturbing."

The list in recent weeks, said Ackley, has included tires, trucks, paper containers and various aluminum, copper and stainless steel products.

At the same time, Ackley said, business gains in the rest of 1965 will be only about half as great as in the booming January-March first quarter. Lower automobile output and a slowdown in inventory buying by industry are the major factors, he added.

Ackley suggested that the over-all prospect for price stability may be good because a slowdown in the growth rate would erase the threat of any serious overheating of the economy.

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department said an April survey of 16,000 households showed a continued rise in consumer confidence. The survey results: 24.7 per cent of the families sampled said they expected their income to be higher in a year; 22 per cent said they planned to buy new appliances in the next six months; 9.3 per cent planned to buy new cars and 5.3 per cent planned to buy homes in the next 12 months.

The survey was taken before the Johnson administration unwrapped its proposal to cut $4 billion in excise taxes on hundreds of products and services — a move aimed at further stimulating buying.

Other soundings of the economy generally were favorable. Steel production edged up during the week after three straight weekly declines. Automobile sales set a mid-May record for the industry.

Car dealers delivered 275,854 automobiles from May 11-20, compared with 257,320 the year before. The industry's daily rate of sales trailed last month's daily rate, however. Dealers sold a

Hospital, Education Civil Rights Pacts Are Hailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of Welfare James M. Quigley says he is encouraged about the filing of acceptable civil rights compliance statements in the hospital and education fields.

Quigley said there has been a breakthrough in both fields by institutions and states seeking to meet the 1964 Civil Rights Act provisions that they end discrimination or face loss of federal funds. The former Democratic congressman from Pennsylvania is coordinating Welfare Department compliance efforts.

"We still have a lot of work to do," Quigley said.

He noted that some 235 complaints — most of them directed at individual hospitals — have been brought to his attention.

The hospital complaints have been aimed mostly at areas served by the Atlanta regional office but have included some in the Boston, New York, Kansas City and San Francisco regional office areas.

"At this stage of the game we have probably completed 35 or 40 hospital investigations," Quigley said. "But that is just the first step. Then we have to seek compliance on a voluntary basis."

"About a dozen of these hospitals have now satisfied us with their corrective actions."

"Examples of these are the University of Mississippi Hospital, the University of Alabama Hospital, the Southeastern Alabama Hospital at Dothan, the University of Virginia Hospital, Chatham County General Hospital at Savannah, Ga., and the University of Tennessee Hospital in Knoxville."

"And, though we are satisfied, the complainant may not be, back. It is our responsibility, anyway, to make periodic reviews to determine that the situation is as it was when our investigation was made."

Quigley said he regards the changes which had been made at the University of Mississippi and University of Alabama hospitals "between the time they read of the complaints in the newspapers or from the time the Civil Rights Act passed" as being "rather dramatic."

In the educational field, Quigley hailed the fact the acceptable compliance statements have been received from state educational agencies in all but two states — Alabama and Alaska. He said this means that only Alabama among the Deep South states still does not have an acceptable plan.

Commissioner of Education

Francis Keppel said that for school districts to qualify for continued federal assistance they must desegregate four grades this September, and all other grades in September 1966 — or show they have a satisfactory desegregation plan.

Since Keppel issued his directive, Quigley said, "plans have been coming in at a faster rate and they will probably come in even faster."

Trial-Delay Curbs Are Being Sought

CLEVELAND (AP) — Chief Police Prosecutor Edward V. Cain says a motion will be filed this week in Municipal Court to end what he called "trial delays" in the cases of 10 civil rights demonstrators charged with disturbing the peace at a school construction site last April 7, 1964, at the site of Stephen E. Howe elementary school. Another demonstrator, the Rev. Bruce W. Klunder, was crushed to death accidentally under a bulldozer.

Connecticut Orders Statewide Fluoridation

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — In a surprise move, the legislature has passed and Gov. John Dempsey has signed legislation requiring fluoridation of Connecticut's public water supplies.

Connecticut became the first state to pass such a law, although the District of Columbia has one.

The State Health Department earlier this year had proposed a regulation that would have accomplished exactly the same thing as the new law. Under the law a fluoride compound will be put into the water as a measure to help prevent tooth decay.

Cleveland Judge Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court will close at noon Wednesday for the funeral of Judge Saul S. Danaceau, 67, who died Sunday night after suffering a heart attack Saturday.

daily average of 30,650 cars in mid-May, compared with 31,859 in mid-April.

Automobile production during the week was estimated at 204,675 cars, compared with 161,360 a year ago and 209,615 a week ago.

The nation's steel mills poured 2.7 million tons of raw steel in the week ended last Saturday, a 1.5 per cent gain over the previous week. Output also was 8 per cent higher than the 2.5 million tons poured in the corresponding week last year.

The national debt, currently $316.3 billion, will climb to $325.9 billion by next March 15, Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler estimated. He made the forecast in asking Congress to raise the legal debt limit to $329 billion from the existing $324 billion.

At the same time, lawmakers were told the budget deficit for fiscal 1966 would be $4.3 billion, $1 billion less than projected at the start of the year — even allowing for a bigger excise-tax cut than the administration originally had planned.

Who Engineered Switch?

By John Chamberlain

The American college students — or at least the fringe percentage of the undergraduates who envy their demonstration — happy opposite numbers in the banana republic universities of the Caribbean area — might well consider the position that they have been had. And American Negroes might go along with the students in doing their share of meditation on recent history.

In a brilliantly speculative column, datelined Washington, Mr. Frank Conniff remarked the other day on the sudden switch of the campus demonstrators, both hard-case and amateur, from the civil rights movement to the get-out-of-Vietnam — and Santo — Domingo movement. It was his guess — that the switch was one of fashion: carrying banners for the peace-at-any-price cause had become the "hip" or the "swinging" thing to do. Since suggestibility, or contagion, certainly explains a lot about the spread of intellectual fashions, Mr. Conniff is obviously on the beam in his surmise. But the theory of suggestibility implies that there is someone around to do the suggesting. The question is, who were the Typhoid Marys that set the civil right marchers off on the entirely different track of trying to discredit President Lyndon Johnson's actions in the Vietnamese and Dominican crises?

Anyone who tries to answer this question will surely risk being ripped up the back as a McCarthyite. But the coincidence of Communist needs (both those of the Soviet and Maoist variety) for action on Vietnam and Santo Domingo and the switch in internal American campus protests from civil rights to international "peace" is a glaring one. The Communists are in unforeseen trouble in Southeast Asia and in the Dominican Republic precisely because Lyndon Johnson's policies have been effective in both places. Hence it is entirely logical that their phony interest in the American Negro's cause inside the United States should suddenly be consigned to a secondary position while they pull out all the stops to encourage "teach-ins" and marches and letter-writing marathons and $5,000-per-page advertisements in big newspapers to the end of destroying President Lyndon Johnson's conviction that he is on the right path.

The order to go all-out on the "anti-imperialist" demonstration front was issued by the Kremlin on March 3 in Moscow in the form of one of those low-key bundles of clichés that arouse no one at first save the initiated. "The representatives of Communist and workers' parties," so the order read, "call the attention of all the Progressive and peace-loving forces. . . to the dangerous situation created by the expansion of military intervention by the U. S. imperialists in South Vietnam and by the acts of aggression against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam. We call on all. . . to promote unity of action and solidarity in the active struggle against imperialist aggression."

Since this order went out, there has been a marked change in the ratio of civil rights articles and "anti-imperialist" articles in the local American Communist press. At least eighty per cent of the space goes to foreign affairs matters today. Not so long ago the civil rights movement was getting most of the space.

The Negro civil rights leaders who have fallen for the Leftist contention that the South Vietnamese people and citizens of the Dominican Republic don't need protection in their own hopes for civil rights against Communists should reconsider their position. Surely Martin Luther King wasn't helping his own cause when, in Boston, he remarked, apropos of the supposed nuclear menace of U. S. policy in Vietnam, that "it is very nice to drink milk at an unsegregated lunch counter — but not when there's Strontium 90 in it." The Rev. King might reflect that if any Strontium 90 has been released into the upper atmosphere in recent months, it could only have come from the Red Chinese and Soviet nuclear explosions.

As for the student protesters on Vietnam, this columnist is quite willing to believe in the innocence of at least ninety-nine per cent of them. But the rank-and-file members of all those organizations of the "new Left" might legitimately begin to look for Communist Typhoid Marys in their midst. The theory of fashion demands a fashion-maker, and you can't have a hypnosis without a hypnotizer.

A Visit to Sniperville

By Hal Boyle

A SHAU, South Viet Nam (AP) — We were on our way to Sniperville.

That's what the aerial supply crews call this mountain outpost on the Laotian border 51 miles west of Da Nan.

"This is the hottest place we come into," said the navigator, Capt. Ray Perdue, 33, Roanoke, Va.

"For the last month every time one of our planes has landed or taken off here it has been hit. The elephant grass is so deep snipers can crawl in it up to within 50 feet of the runway.

"The grass is so dense we can't even burn it off with napalm. Two days ago a sniper wounded one of our troop passengers here right after he jumped off the plane."

The last incident had thoroughly angered the squadron commander, Lt. Col. Harry G. Howton, Birmingham, Ala. He doesn't like to have his big unarmed C123 sky ferries shot up.

Today, flying as pilot himself, he was looking for revenge. He had brought along a couple of propeller-driven Skyraiders as close support.

Because of the sniper danger we wore thick flak vests — and sat tight. The heat was stifling in the cargo space which was crowded with 53 Vietnamese troops we were bringing to the outpost.

They looked like toy dolls dressed up as soldiers. Some giggled and looked out the windows. Others chattered like magpies. One sat alone, silently weeping, with a hand over his face to hide his tears.

"You never can be sure how they'll react to plane flight," said a crewman. "A few get really frightened and airsick."

"Now and then one will go berserk. One who did that tried to blow up the plane with his grenades, and had to be held down."

As we landed on the small airstrip we were greeted by a sign that said: "Welcome to the A Shau Hilton. Laos one mile. Hanoi 395. Detroit 12,000. New York 13,000."

As a damaged five-ton truck was being winched aboard our craft for the return trip, I talked to Lt. Gordon Walker, 26, Laurel, Md., executive officer of a 10-man U.S. Army Special Forces team. The two Skyraiders winged low over the elephant grass on the other side of the airstrip looking for targets.

"We straddle what we think is one of the chief guerrilla supply routes along the Laotian border," said Walker.

"But the Congs operate in such small groups and move around so much it is hard to locate and destroy them. Maybe two or three times a week, sometimes during the day, sometimes at night they'll sneak up, fire a few rounds, then melt back into the hills."

As we climbed aboard one of the planes and took off, the two Skyraiders made several low-level flights over the elephant grass. But there was no enemy fire.

Col. Howton seemed disappointed.

"I was hoping one or two of those snipers would lift his head," he said. "I guess we'll have to get them another day."

But of late prices have been rising a bit faster. This may be temporary although most people suspect that it's always easier for prices to rise than to fall back again.

There are other fields than prices in which the role of favorite may be shifting from consumer to businessman. One is in the task of keeping the economy climbing at home, and another in solving the nation's problems in its international monetary dealings.

Consumers are pretty well aware by now that what the planners of the economy expect of them is to make more money, if possible, and in any event to go on putting out almost all of this income, either on current bills or as down payments on new ones. This keeps the economy rolling prettily.

Right now it appears that personal income and expenditure will continue to rise, but perhaps with less of a rush than that which sent the economy soaring in recent months.

Stepped up spending for plants and equipment also is pleasing to those who fear a slowdown in other sectors of the economy, such as a possible reversal of the recent piling up of steel inventories and the record production of new cars.

Such business spending for expansion is now estimated as high as $51 billion this year, compared with $45 billion last year and $37 billion in 1962. The increased spending will help keep the economy rolling.

Right now the businessman is getting the accolades. Even so, some fingers are crossed as to whether he has figured out future demand correctly, or whether he might stop spending if he changes his mind, and thus jolt the economy.

Tunisia will build a holiday city in Jerba, legendary island of the lotus-eaters. The government says the undertaking will be the largest tourist project ever attempted in the Mediterranean area. It will include six hostels with more than a thousand rooms and a "boatel" at water's edge.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Can anemia be corrected by taking iron?

There are many kinds of anemia, many grades of severity and many causes of anemia. Only by complete examination of the blood can the type of anemia be diagnosed.

Iron is used by mouth or by injection for very specific types of anemia. When anemia occurs in pregnancy, in some disorders of the intestinal tract or during early childhood, there may be a deficiency of iron. When iron is replaced and the underlying cause is removed the anemia tends to disappear.

Is there more than one kind of diabetes?

The common form of diabetes mellitus is a disorder of carbohydrate metabolism. This form of diabetes involves the pancreas.

Diabetes insipidus is caused by a disorder of a portion of the pituitary gland. The symptoms of these conditions do not resemble each other. In diabetes insipidus there is excessive, unquenchable thirst with tremendous outpouring of urine.

The symptoms of diabetes mellitus are many and varied. No one should guess about the possibility of diabetes. A simple test of the urine and the blood can readily make the diagnosis and lead the way to the control of the condition.

What is an irritable colon? What causes it?

This condition, correctly called mucous colitis, involves the large intestine.

Poor and irregular eating habits, abuse of laxatives, overuse of antibiotics, chronic constipation, too frequent enemas and emotional stresses can produce the discomfort of the irritable colon.

Before an intestinal condition is definitely called an irritable colon many studies are made. X-ray with barium, and microscopic examination of the stool

What is meant by the different stages of labor during the delivery of a child?

The three stages of labor indicate to the physician the progress of the descent of the baby from the womb and through the birth canal.

The first stage is the one in which abdominal cramps become regular and intense due to the contraction of the womb. The second stage of labor begins when the cervix, or the neck of the womb, is completely opened.

The third stage of labor is the actual period of delivery of the baby.

The line of demarcation of each of the stages of labor are important to the physician. Medication and technical procedures depend on how each stage of the delivery progresses.

Road Slaughter Sets Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio chalked up a record highway slaughter over the long Memorial Day weekend.

At least 27 persons died in Ohio traffic accidents during the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday to Monday midnight, surpassing by five the number of deaths forecast by the State Highway Safety Department for the period.

Only California, with more than 50 deaths, had a higher toll than Ohio. Ten of the fatalities were recorded Saturday, including the worst accident of the weekend, a two-car crash north of Upper Sandusky which took five lives.

At least seven other deaths came in multiple-fatality accidents, including a young mother and her two infant children in a crash near Middletown just after the weekend count began.

In addition to the traffic fatalities, at least eight persons lost their lives in other Ohio accidents during the weekend. The worst of these involved three children who burned to death Friday when they were trapped in a shack behind their home in Portage County.

The traffic count this year far exceeded that of last year, when 16 deaths were recorded in the Buckeye State.

On the national scene, the traffic slaughter toll for the weekend was far greater than the total of American servicemen killed so far in the Viet Nam war.

Noting that the highway toll was a record high for the second year in a row, the National Safety Council blamed "incompetent and irresponsible driving."

"More and more must be done to improve the nation's driving skills," said Howard Pyle, council president.

Pyle said reports on highway traffic accidents throughout the weekend showed that mistakes in driving judgment posed the major problem.

He said the record bears out the findings in a recent nationwide drivers test in which a very high percentage of the participants failed to qualify as safe drivers.

Several multiple-death accidents helped swell the national total to 466 for the period from 6 p.m. local time Friday to Monday midnight.

The old record of 431 traffic fatalities was set in 1964. Three spectacular auto smashups in the area of Needles, Lone Pine and San Jose, Calif., snuffed out 16 lives.

A head-on collision on a desert highway near Needles, Saturday killed six and left an 11-year-old girl the only survivor.

An almost identical smashup in the High Sierra foothills Sunday near Lone Pine took five lives, leaving an 8-year-old girl as survivor.

Three men and two women died Saturday in a collision on a freeway north of San Jose.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of highway fatalities for the three-day non-holiday weekend period from 6 p.m. Friday, May 14, to midnight Monday, May 17. The death toll during the period was 387.

The lowest postwar traffic death toll for any three-day observance of Memorial Day was 204 in 1948. The record high for any three-day holiday period was 609 during the 1955 Christmas season.

During this year's Memorial Day holiday period, 35 persons lost their lives in boating accidents and 87 drowned.

Grissom says there is no advice on what to do when something unexpected happens. During the March 23 flight a power converter failed and all the lights, gauge needles, clocks, everything depending on electricity, went dead.

"It gives you quite a start," Grissom said. "You know where you are and to see something like that — well your heart skips a beat. Then you switch to the backup supply and everything is normal again. But how can you advise somebody against something like that?"

Fight Hinted as Cause Of Cleveland's Death
CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Baker, 35, whose body was found Monday in his bed, had been dead about two days, detectives reported. Police were questioning a person Baker reportedly had a fight with Friday or Saturday. The coroner will rule on the cause of Baker's death.

Lot of Questions Are Unanswered Following 4-Day Ohio KKK Rally

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—The rather uneventful four-day rally that was supposed to show Ohioans the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is still active in the North was over today and a lot of question remained unanswered.

The main question concerned the hooded order's strength in Ohio, where a governor had to proclaim martial law 40 years ago in an effort to curb the Klan.

Grand Emperor Hugh Morris of Buchanan, Ga., seemed pleased Monday night when he said in the glare of a burning cross that the rally had been successful. He had said earlier that 200 to 500 new members were initiated in the Cincinnati area during the weekend, but there was no increase in the number of robed Klansmen at the rally.

Several thousand persons visited Parkie Scott's farm in northern Warren County during the four days and nights of the rally. Many of them just curious, many were college youths who came to listen with amazed expressions and sometimes to argue with Klan speakers—but there were also many who signed membership application blanks on a card table in Scott's back yard.

About 750 people watched a 45-foot cross burn Monday night.

Some 300 were on hand for Saturday night's ceremony.

There was talk that the applications totaled more than 200, but Morris would not cite any figures. Only a few Klansmen in robes and hoods were in sight during the rally, which included two cross burning ceremonies.

"We had virtually no problems, but it was a long drawn-out affair," Sheriff Byron Kenard Sr. said Monday night as the spectators of the second cross-burning left Scott's farm seven miles northeast of here.

Morris, clad in a business suit touched off that cross. On Saturday night, Imperial Wizard

James R. Venable of Atlanta performed the ceremony and both he and Morris wore Klan robes.

Emperor Morris, who seemed quite at ease with newsmen and northerners, was vague about his plans but hinted he might stay in the Cincinnati area for a while longer.

Morris said several times that rallies of the Warren County type were mostly "to let people know about the Klan." He did hint similar large rallies might be held elsewhere in Ohio and the North. When pressed by newsmen, he mentioned several places. The places were different each day, but Dayton and the Cleveland area were mentioned more often than others.

Vagueness and secrecy seemed to be part of Klan tactics. The few hooded figures who showed up—the most were six at a time—refused to give their names. The 30 or so unmasked "regulars" who were at the farm each day also would not say who they were or whether they were members of the Klan.

A number of the regulars said they were members of the States Rights Party, whose Cincinnati leader, Mrs. Eloise Witte, was one of the moving spirits behind the rally.

Three persons were arrested during the rally. The tensest moment came Sunday night when two young Cincinnati men were roughly ejected after they allegedly got into an argument with a racist speaker.

Miss Reid, Mr. Harper Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Jane Reid and Mr. Robert Harper were united in marriage 7:30 p. m. May 27 in the Laurelville Methodist Church. The Rev. Frank White performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid, Route 2, Laurelville. Mr. Harper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Harper, Route 2, Laurelville.

For her wedding the bride wore a knit nylon jersey dress with white accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a white carnation and blue ribbons. The Bible was a graduation gift and for something old she carried a white handkerchief edged in blue, which belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. Roy Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Daubentire, cousins of the bride, were attendants for the couple.

The new Mrs. Harper is a 1965 graduate of Laurelville High School.

Mr. Harper is employed at the Midwest Fabricating Co., Amanda.

Following the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fortner. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated and topped with a miniature bride and groom. It was baked by Mrs. Fortner, aunt of the bride.

The couple is residing at Route 2, Laurelville.

Party Held For Students

A party was held in the home of Steven Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, Route 1, honoring students of Pickaway Elementary School who will enter Junior High School this fall.

Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Those attending included Vickie Anderson, Connie Shaffer, Tilden Thompson, Grover Dresback, George Sparks, Chuck Karson, Johnny Stant, Teresa Wright, Janet Burger, Susan List, Janice Kerns, Danny Darst, Chuck Arnold, Jackie Crosby, Susie Hildenbrand, Debbie Bitzer and Fred Tomlinson.

Friday Session Planned by WCTU

A WCTU group institute will be held Friday at Salem Church with the Salem and Walnut Twp. units participating.

The morning session will begin 10:30 a. m. Visitors are invited from Chillicothe, Groveport and Laurelville. A carry-in luncheon will be served at noon with tea and coffee provided. Members are to bring their own table service.

Meeting Announced

The Gleaners Class of the First Baptist Church will meet 8 p. m. today in the home of Mrs. Ralph Bryant, 1053 Mulberry Road.

Dry macaroons and crush them so you have fine crumbs; fold the crumbs into sweetened whipped cream and use for a cake filling.

Dear Abby: Guilty Conscience Cure

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I cheated a little on my income tax and I haven't been able to sleep nights. What should I do?

CHARLIE
DEAR CHARLIE: Send the Department of Internal Revenue a check for $100. And if you still can't sleep nights, send them the balance.

DEAR ABBY: My sister asked me to write this to you. I just gave her a few facts of life. She fell into the "we-are-going-to-get-married-anyway-so-why-wait" trap. I used to use the same line myself, but never on a "nice" girl. I told my sister that when a guy can get a girl without marrying her, he loses respect for her, and he certainly doesn't want a wife he can't respect. After a guy gets to a girl, this is what she represents to him, and every time he sees her, that's all he thinks of. When I saw what was taking place with my sister, I gave her the male point of view. She's a smart girl so she broke off with the bum. She had a few bad months, but now she's going with a decent guy and is doing a good job of building her self-respect. If girls would only remember they are not married until after the ceremony, and that lots can happen before that!

I can forgive a girl for making one mistake when she is young. But if she repeats it, it's HER fault because she should know better. So, Abby, please print this for young girls who don't have brothers to tell them what I just told my sister.

BIG BROTHER

DEAR ABBY: I need your advice on how to handle my neighbor. She is constantly coming over here and crying on my shoulder. She tells me stories about how unfair her husband is and she also keeps harping on all her aches and pains. Abby, I am not a well woman myself and I can't take much more of her. Sometimes she will get me on the telephone and talk for hours. I'm afraid that if I tell her off she'll talk about me to the whole neighborhood. I feel very sorry for her, but this has gone too far. What should I do?

FED UP

DEAR FED: If the poor woman is mentally ill and needs someone to talk to, it would be cruel to "tell her off." But if she's just a gabby busybody with a lot of time on her hands, she should be discouraged by consistent rebuffs. When she phones, tell her you are busy and can't talk to her. And when she appears at the door, tell her you have much to do and are unable to visit. It may seem unkind, but unless you want to make a career out of being this neighbor's wailing wall, you'd better heed the advice.

DEAR ABBY: I've always been taught never to use anybody else's comb or brush and not to let anyone use mine. We have even been told this in health class at school. But some kids still ask to use my comb. Some of them have dandruff and don't always keep their hair clean. I don't know how to say no without hurting people's feelings and giving them the idea that I am "stuck-up." What should I do? Please print this as it might help others with the same problem.

UNWILLING COMB-LENDER
DEAR UNWILLING: Go to the dime store and buy a comb. Keep yours neatly tucked away for your personal use and when a borrower asks for your comb give her the loaner.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad you didn't give much comfort to the person who asked you what you thought of grown men ending a business conversation on the telephone with "bye bye."

If you were to spend much time around the White House, you'd hear President Johnson terminate almost every conversation that way.

NOT GUESSING

Press Told Its Duty: Ask Questions

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield praised the nation's press here and said it must continue to reflect the truth as it sees it, "not as it is reflected in the retina of 'official position.'"

When these two views differ, Mansfield said, "there must be no forced convergence in the name of a national unity."

That kind of unity, he added, "is not a source of strength. Rather, it is a source of a dangerous and delusive weakness."

In a commencement speech prepared for delivery at Clarke College, Mansfield said it is the basic task of the press to ask incisive questions "which in a democracy need to be asked by the people and answered by their government."

The Montana Democrat said this was the case in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, where "the press provides the impetus and stimulus for a searching and continuing public debate which is likely to go on and should go on until there is a satisfactory resolution of critical national questions."

Minor Bills Get Attention In Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Action on relatively minor bills is expected to dominate floor sessions of the Ohio General Assembly this week as major issues remain unresolved in committees.

Bills up for a vote today in the House, as the lawmakers return from an extended holiday weekend, would allow counties to contribute to certain educational groups and require county auditors to notify school districts of proposed tax duplicate changes.

Senators turn to measures permitting counties and municipalities to cooperate on street improvements and streamlining the procedure for handling state university student fees.

Today marks the beginning of the session's sixth month, and as yet, no legislation of major significance has been passed by the politically deadlocked Senate.

The result has been a logjam of House bills in the upper chamber.

Pending in Senate committees are vital appropriations measures, along with "fair housing" legislation and proposals to re-appropriate the House in line with the U. S. Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" edict.

The Senate Rules Committee has had the housing legislation for several weeks but declined to bring it to the floor where Democrats, seeking a stronger bill, have promised a floor fight for amendments.

The Senate Finance Committee will begin hearings Wednesday on the $89 million capital improvements bill. The same committee is considering the $1.4 billion general appropriations measure and one to set aside $888 million for the Highway and Highway Safety departments.

All these bills received early House approval although the Highway-Highway Safety measure was revised after being defeated on the floor by Democrats.

Members of a House Education subcommittee have scheduled more testimony Wednesday on measures calling on school boards to provide public school bus transportation for private and parochial school students.

A second hearing is scheduled at the same time before the House Finance Committee on a bill providing pay raises for more than 39,000 state employees.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, June 1, the 152nd day of 1965. There are 213 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history.

On this date in 1813, American Capt. James Lawrence, mortally wounded, gave his immortal order, "Don't give up the ship." Minutes later his frigate, the "Chesapeake," was taken by the British ship "Shannon."

On this date in 1796, Kentucky was admitted into the Union as the 15th state.

In 1796, Tennessee, the 16th state, was admitted.

In 1801, Mormon leader Brigham Young was born.

In 1941, the British announced they had withdrawn 15,000 troops from Crete.

In 1942, an armada of Royal Air Force planes bombed the German industrial city of Essen.

Ten years ago—The Wisconsin Supreme Court overturned the conviction of the "Joe Must Go Club" which had been fined by a lower court on the ground it had used funds illegally in its effort to force the recall of Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

Five years ago—The Council of Ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was meeting in Washington to investigate Communist advances in Southeast Asia.

One year ago — President Johnson welcomed Premier Levi Eshkol of Israel in Washington.

Most of the increases are earmarked for workers earning less than $600 a month.

The House Elections and Federal Relations Committee is considering seven plans to re-appropriate the House. Committee Chairman Charles F. Kurfess, R-Wood, said more hearings on these measures are slated Wednesday night.

Today marks the beginning of the session's sixth month, and as yet, no legislation of major significance has been passed by the politically deadlocked Senate.

The result has been a logjam of House bills in the upper chamber.

Pending in Senate committees are vital appropriations measures, along with "fair housing" legislation and proposals to re-appportion the House in line with the U. S. Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" edict.

The Senate Rules Committee has had the housing legislation for several weeks but declined to bring it to the floor where Democrats, seeking a stronger bill, have promised a floor fight for amendments.

The Senate Finance Committee will begin hearings Wednesday on the $89 million capital improvements bill. The same committee is considering the $1.4 billion general appropriations measure and one to set aside $888 million for the Highway and Highway Safety departments.

All these bills received early House approval although the Highway-Highway Safety measure was revised after being defeated on the floor by Democrats.

Members of a House Education subcommittee have scheduled more testimony Wednesday on measures calling on school boards to provide public school transportation for private and parochial school students.

A second hearing is scheduled at the same time before the House Finance Committee on a bill providing pay raises for more than 39,000 state employees.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, June 1, the 152nd day of 1965. There are 213 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history. On this date in 1813, American Capt. James Lawrence, mortally wounded, gave his immortal order, "Don't give up the ship." Minutes later his frigate, the "Chesapeake," was taken by the British ship "Shannon."

On this date In 1792 Kentucky was admitted into the Union as the 15th state.

In 1796, Tennessee, the 16th state, was admitted.

In 1801, Mormon leader Brigham Young was born.

In 1941, the British announced they had withdrawn 15,000 troops from Crete.

In 1942, an armada of Royal Air Force planes bombed the German industrial city of Essen.

Ten years ago—The Wisconsin Supreme Court overturned the conviction of the "Joe Must Go Club" which had been fined by a lower court on the ground it had used funds illegally in its effort to force the recall of Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

Five years ago—The Council of Ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was meeting in Washington to investigate Communist advances in Southeast Asia.

One year ago — President Johnson welcomed Premier Levi Eshkol of Israel in Washington.

Most of the increases are earmarked for workers earning less than $600 a month.

The House Elections and Federal Relations Committee is considering seven plans to re-appportion the House. Committee Chairman Charles F. Kurfess, R-Wood, said more hearings on these measures are slated Wednesday night.

$10 Million U.S. Aid Pours Into Dominica

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has sent more than $10 million worth of aid to the Dominican Republic since civil war erupted a month ago.

Money, food and medical supplies have been sent to aid the hungry, the ill and the wounded — and to keep the government functioning while rival factions struggle to take charge.

U.S. officials won't say whether — or how — the aid is being used to help achieve the announced U.S. goal in the Dominican Republic — a Communist-free, coalition government.

The United States has declared its neutrality in the current struggle between rebels and a military-civilian junta. But politics aside, said Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the United States had to make sure Dominican life and government did not disintegrate into chaos.

President Johnson added in his Baylor University speech Friday: "As peace returns to the Dominican people and as a broad base is laid for a new Dominican government responsive to the people's will, the United States will be prepared to join in full measure in the massive task of reconstruction and in the hopeful work of lasting economic progress."

The main channel for pouring in U.S. funds for one politically sensitive purpose — paying salaries of Dominican government employees — is the Organization of American States.

OAS Secretary-General Jose Mora — in Santo Domingo to mediate the civil war — has $6 million from the United States to keep paychecks going to Dominican government workers, whether they be in the junta or the rebel area. Inter-American troops have occupied the republic's Central Bank to make sure the funds don't fall into the wrong hands.

U.S. authorities figure this is the best way of keeping vital government services going without violating official neutrality toward the feuding political factions. The junta leader, Brig Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, nevertheless denounced the move as "frank intervention" in the country's internal affairs.

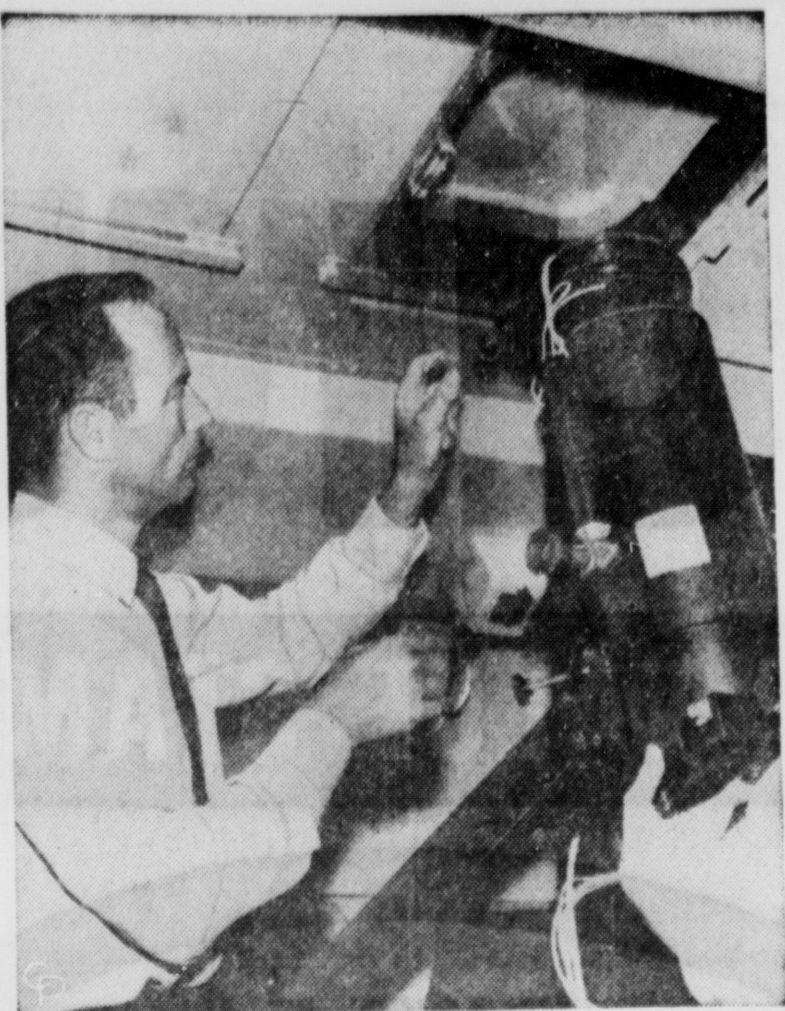

Imbert reportedly has asked the United States for $3.5 million for government payrolls over the next two weeks. Washington has not confirmed receiving this request, but its answer has been through the OAS action.

About half of the $6 million has been spent. The OAS is in the process of distributing the rest.

In addition to financial aid, an Agency for International Development official said the United States has sent food worth $4,234,977 to the Dominican Republic in an emergency stepup of its assistance program.

All told, 26,752 tons of food have been dispatched since the civil war erupted. Among the surplus commodities sent were milk, beans, flower, rice, corn and vegetable oil.

In addition, medical supplies and personnel have been sent to the Dominican Republic by the United States, the Organization of American States and some Latin American nations.

ASTRONAUT TO CHASE MOON'S SHADOW—Astronaut Scott Carpenter, who made a three-orbit space flight three years ago, will get another look at space May 30, when he will make photographs of the Sun's corona during a total eclipse over the South Pacific. He and world scientists will observe the eclipse from a NASA jet transport in a 600-mile-an-hour chase of the Moon's shadow.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gian Carlo Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors" over the years in repeated NBC performances has become one of television's classics. It is unlikely, however, that a more recent Menotti effort, "Martin's Lie," will ever achieve such network status.

The first American performance of the work on CBS Sunday was the highlight of the long holiday weekend. The production was taped a year ago when it had its world premiere in England's Bristol Cathedral.

Where "Amahl" tells a joyous, warmly inspirational story, "Martin's Lie" is a somber, 16th century tale of cruelty and unhappiness. Its climax comes when a 9-year-old child dies of stark terror, threatened with

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—American presidents have had to play a good bit of their foreign policy by ear since World War II. President Johnson is doing the same, and before he's through his ears may tingle.

All of them have had to operate against communism on two planes: the long-range and the sudden.

All the presidents since the war have had plans for restraining communism and carried them out while never knowing from one minute to the next what the Reds would suddenly try.

And, when they did try, the presidents had to make-do fast to meet the new problem, hoping they would be both right and effective.

One example is President Harry S. Truman's almost instant response to the North Korean Reds' attack on South Korea; another is Johnson's quick action in using troops in the Dominican Republic where, he said, Communists had taken control of the rebellion.

But if American presidents have had to play the Communists by ear because of their unpredictability, Johnson is forcing the Reds as of now to play the same way with him and for the same reason.

How a president responds to the sudden and unpredictable provides more than just a measure of his judgment, since it affects thereafter both the foreign relations of this country and his world leadership.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—American presidents have had to play a good bit of their foreign policy by ear since World War II. President Johnson is doing the same, and before he's through his ears may tingle.

All of them have had to operate against communism on two planes: the long-range and the sudden.

All the presidents since the war have had plans for restraining communism and carried them out while never knowing from one minute to the next what the Reds would suddenly try.

And, when they did try, the presidents had to make-do fast to meet the new problem, hoping they would be both right and effective.

One example is President Harry S. Truman's almost instant response to the North Korean Reds' attack on South Korea; another is Johnson's quick action in using troops in the Dominican Republic where, he said, Communists had taken control of the rebellion.

But if American presidents have had to play the Communists by ear because of their unpredictability, Johnson is forcing the Reds as of now to play the same way with him and for the same reason.

How a president responds to the sudden and unpredictable provides more than just a measure of his judgment, since it affects thereafter both the foreign relations of this country and his world leadership.

Johnson has been criticized at home and abroad for ordering the Vietnamese bombing and his action in the Dominican Republic although, as of now, he can not be fairly judged on either action.

The general public does not know how much of a menace the Dominican Communists were, or how necessary it was to bomb North Viet Nam, or whether the bombing will force the Reds to a truce and save South Viet Nam.

There's something else the general public doesn't know: will Johnson act this fast in future emergencies or will he, because of the criticism he got, be more cautious hereafter about involving American forces around the world?

But, ironically, the Communists don't know the answer to those two questions either, and because they don't, Johnson will remain as unpredictable to them as they are to him.

This, in itself, may have a deterring effect on them, which may be something Johnson himself had figured out, without knowing where he'd have to act, before he acted in these two cases.

Presidential cold war planning began with the Truman "doctrine" in 1947 when the wartime Allies like Britain and France were broke and communism was pressuring Greece and Turkey.

Truman had to make a reality of his doctrine, which simply said the United States would help any country anywhere resist communism, with a series of helpful worldwide programs: economic and military aid.

And when that wasn't enough, Truman backed his programs and his doctrine with direct U.S. intervention, as he did in breaking the Soviet blockade of Berlin and in the Korean War.

His doctrine remained the policy of Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Johnson. Eisenhower and Kennedy had their hands full with both the Russians and the Red Chinese. Johnson has had a rather quiet time with both.

But the Russians were and are unpredictable. The only thing unpredictable about the Chinese is where and when they will try a showdown with the United States. That they will try eventually seems certain.

In the 16 years since taking over China they have been biding their time while gathering their strength, economically and militarily, and today are well on their way to developing nuclear weapons.

When they'll be ready to move is a guess. If Johnson is gone by then, his successor also will have to play by ear.

having his eyes burned out.

Menotti, of course, was making a point. Martin, an orphan in a rat-infested monastery, chose death to revealing the hiding place of a heretic who had convinced Martin that he was his father.

In a short prologue Menotti explained his theme—that love could triumph over truth.

The medieval settings and trappings were impressive, as were the voices of the principal singers — particularly that of the boy Martin, played by Michael Wennick, 14. But the message seemed fuzzy and diffused. It was a long, dark hour on a sunny afternoon.

When Shirley Booth and her comedy series go from NBC to CBS this fall, it may take a while to get accustomed to "Hazel's" new family situation.

She will be employed by another Baxter family — presumably the brother and sister-in-law of "Mr. B." But Don De Fore and Whitney Blake who played her family for so long will be missing. Bobby Bonbrack, who played their son, still will be around. It will be interesting to note how they explain the complete disappearance of his television parents.

Youth 'Brushed' From Hay Truck

A 17-year-old riding atop a load of hay Saturday afternoon was injured when he was struck by a low hanging tree limb.

James Archer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Archer, 1015 Sunshine Drive, was treated at Berenger Hospital for a fractured wrist and of possible concussion.

The truck with the load of hay was driven by Reuben Jones, 47, Route 4. The accident occurred two miles east of Circleville on the Bolender-Pontious Road.

Ashville Student Gets Degree from Rio Grande

Kenneth Earl Libby, Ashville, received his BS degree in secondary education Sunday from Rio Grande College.

He majored in social studies at the southeastern Ohio college.

One hundred students received degrees during the annual commencement program while 10 others received cadet teaching certificates.

General Fricke In Command of 37th Division

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, the first member of Ohio's 37th Infantry Division wounded in World War II and its commander for the last six years, ended a 41-year military career Monday.

Windom is stepping out of the Ohio National Guard division nearly three months before he reaches the mandatory retirement age of 60 since that would occur in the middle of this year's summer field training.

He will be succeeded today as division commander by Brig. Gen. Wilbur H. Fricke of Waynesville, Warren County, assistant commander since April 1963.

Windom moved up through the ranks—enlisting in the Ohio Guard in 1924 and serving in all enlisted grades before being commissioned as a lieutenant in 1930. He served as operations and training officer for the division during most of the war and it was in this capacity, while assigned on temporary duty with the 2nd Marine Division on Guadalcanal, that he became the first division member wounded in combat.

He served as Ohio's adjutant general in the administration of former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, and after leaving that position became a regional attorney for the Interstate Commerce Commission. He still holds that post.

Windom, who was graduated from Ohio State University's law school in 1929, is one of Ohio's most decorated generals. On the eve of his retirement, he added another medal to his long list.

Gen. Windom was given a second Oak Leaf cluster to his Legion of Merit.

Fricke, a chemical engineer in civilian life for Frigidaire in Dayton, has been an Army artillery officer since 1936.

He served with the division in World War II, part of it as commander of the 136th Field Artillery Battalion, which he led in combat on Bougainville Island and Luzon.

Fricke will be the 10th commander of the 37th, formed in 1917, and now threatened with extinction under the Pentagon's proposal to merge the National Guard and Army Reserves.

Miss Miller To Sing At Musicians' Banquet

Page Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, Route 1, has been invited to be guest vocalist for the June 5, banquet of the Musicians' Division of the Symphony Club of Central Ohio.

The annual affair will be held at the Christopher Inn, Columbus, and the theme will be "Symphony in Gold".

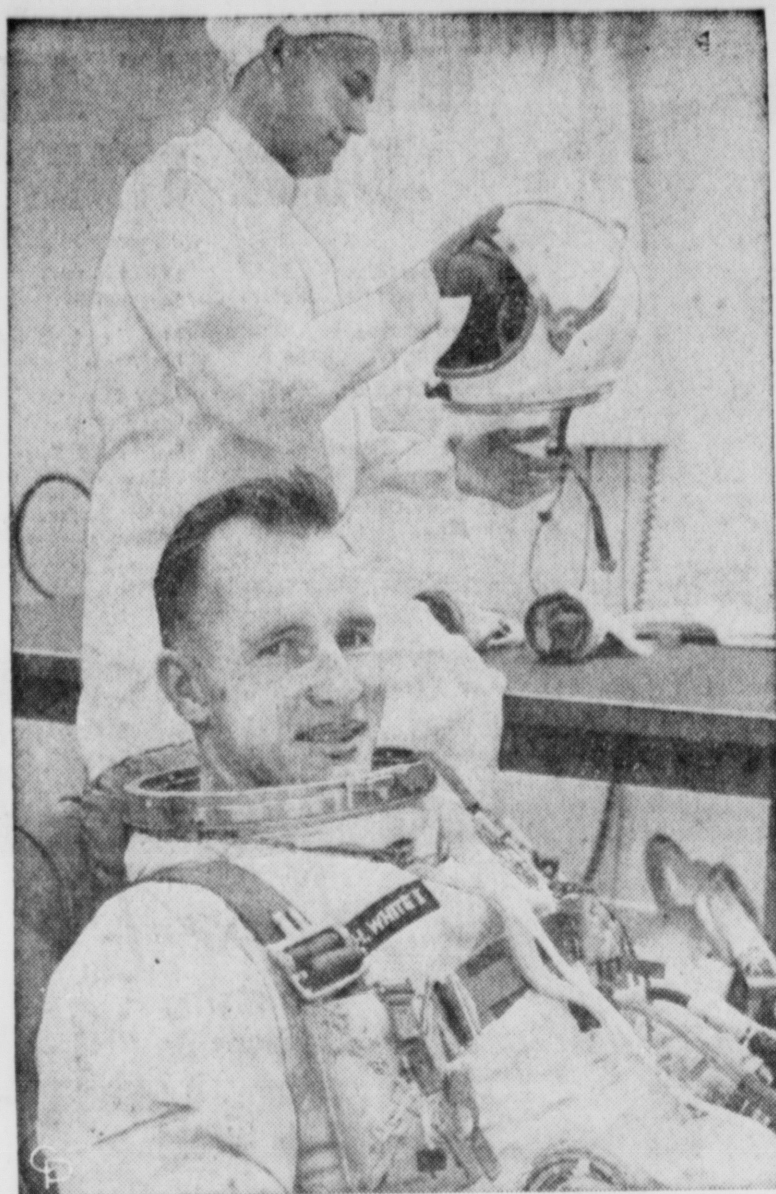

Miss Miller has chosen the following selections to sing: "O Mio Bambino Caro" by Puccini and "Chacun le Sait" by Donizetti. Dorothy Kinsey, Columbus, will be the accompanist.

ORDER OF NOTICE

To the Policyholders of Central Assurance Company, an Ohio mutual company, with principal offices in Clearcreek Township, Warren County, Ohio:

Notice is hereby given that Central Assurance Company has filed its Petition of merger with the Superintendent of Insurance of Ohio. The terms of the proposed merger are on file at the offices of the company and in the office of the Superintendent of Insurance. Such Petition will be heard by the Commission provided by No. 3907, 11 Revised Code at 9:00 A. M. o'clock on Wednesday, June 23, 1965, at the office of the Superintendent of Insurance. Any policyholder of the company may appear and be heard in reference to such Petition.

William R. Morris, Superintendent of Insurance
May 17, 24, 31, June 7, 14, 21.

GOPsters Meet To Update Party's 1964 Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican Policy Coordinating Committee meets today to update the party's 1964 platform. Some declarations probably will be critical of some aspects of President Johnson's program.

Although the Republicans are having difficulty preserving a unified front on such matters as state bans on the union shop, they are expected to find others on which the 23-member committee can agree easily.

Meanwhile, Ray C. Bliss, chairman of the coordinating group and GOP national chairman, has announced the National Committee will meet in Washington June 28-29.

With former GOP presidential nominees scheduled to sit in on the sessions, the coordinating committee will sift the recommendations of task forces on federal-state relationships, human rights, job opportunities, fiscal matters and the conduct of foreign relations.

It will be the first session attended by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Former nominees Thomas E. Dewey, Richard M. Nixon and Barry M. Goldwater are expected to be on hand. Only former Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas indicated he couldn't come.

Members of the committee from the House are expected to press for a declaration calling for linking a reduction in federal spending with a proposed cut of about $5 billion in excise taxes.

They also have attacked John

Pickaway Grange

Scioto Grange met recently at Scioto Twp. School.

During the business meeting an appeal for aid was answered and all bills were paid.

A memorial service was held for all deceased grange members and flowers were placed on the altar in their memory.

At the next regular meeting on Thursday, a covered-dish supper will be held at 7 p. m.

Busy Week Is Awaiting Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returned from its long Memorial Day weekend today to face a busy week involving several major votes.

The House schedule was by far the busier.

On tap today was a vote on a $2-billion appropriation for the State, Justice and Commerce departments. Little debate was expected.

Wednesday, the House takes up the proposed $4.8-billion cut in federal excise taxes. This would eliminate most excises during the next four years, including the 10 per cent tax on automobiles.

Also on the House calendar this week are measures to continue the President's power to propose, subject to congressional veto, reorganizations of executive departments and to increase the national debt limit from $324 billion to $328 billion.

The Senate's major business today is a vote on an administration economic development bill designed to stimulate business in economically depressed areas. It would provide $3 billion over five years.

Later in the week, the Senate will consider the $3.37-billion foreign aid authorization approved by the House last week.

Science fiction film fans could have the time of their lives in Trieste, Italy, from June 10 to 17 this year. Dozens of the fantasy movies will be shown in an International Festival of Sci-Fun-Fantasy Films organized by the local tourist bureau.

Famed Author Describes GE Goal at Nela Park Complex

Nela Park in Cleveland, headquarters of General Electric's Lamp Division, is the subject of a publication written by nationally known author and former Saturday Evening Post editor Pete Martin.

Martin's articles, "I Learn the Facts of Light", were prepared following a visit to Nela Park. His graphically illustrated work offers an extensive review of progress in lighting and contributions in this field by General Electric.

The GE plant operation at Circleville constitutes a part of the firm's 17,000 lamp division employees throughout the country. The local employees play a key role in the story of progress as detailed by Martin.

E. G. Grigg, Circleville plant manager, said the operation here is a part of the continuing effort to provide better values in products and services offered. He added: "In providing such values, we believe General Electric is making an important contribution to the economy as a whole — in more and better jobs, in new opportunities for other businesses we deal with, in increased returns for shareholders, and in helping everyone to live and work better."

MARTIN describes GE's goal as: "more and more light for your money." He refers to the Nela Park complex as a center where "bright ideas come to light."

In outlining advances in the lighting field, Martin pointed out that GE engineering and research has provided 11 times more value in the cost of lamps and electricity through fluorescent improvements since 1939. He also lists the many "firsts" compiled by GE since 1919.

The famous author tells how the dedicated people who staff Nela Park always recognize the importance of determining how lamps can be used most effectively, then inform users.

Referred to as a lighting education center, Nela Park has a faculty of experts who use demonstration areas and exhibits. The purpose is to train thousands of persons each year in the principles, techniques and values of good lighting.

Most of the institute's educational program involves the "teaching of teachers." It does this through courses for representatives of the electrical industry and of other businesses and professions.

LEGAL NOTICE
ESTELLA MAY ANDERSON, Administratrix of the Estate of Helen Hoffman, deceased, Plaintiff vs.
ESTELLA MAY ANDERSON, Defendant.

Burton Dresbach, whose last known place of residence was 911 West Victoria St., Santa Barbara, California, and the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, executors and administrators of Helen Hoffman, deceased, on the 14th day of May, 1965, filed her petition in the Probate Court within and for the County of Pickaway and State of Ohio, alleging that the personal estate of said decedent is insufficient to pay her debts and the charges of administering her estate; that she died seized in fee simple of the undivided one-half (1/2) interest in the following described real estate situated in the City of Circleville, in the County of Pickaway and in the State of Ohio and bounded and described as follows:

Being 10 1/2 feet off the East side of Lot Number Twelve Hundred and Forty-two (1242) and the West one-half (1/2) of Lot Number Twelve Hundred and Forty-three (1243) according to the revised numbering of lots of said City of Circleville.

The prayer of said petition is for the sale of the entire interest in said real estate, the other one-half interest in said real estate being owned by Loring Hoffman, deceased, for the payment of debts and charges aforesaid.

The persons above mentioned will take further notice that they have been made parties defendant to said petition and that they are required to answer the same on or before the 3rd day of July, 1965. Estella May Anderson, Administratrix of the Estate of Helen Hoffman, deceased.

GOPsters Meet To Update Party's 1964 Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican Policy Coordinating Committee meets today to update the party's 1964 platform. Some declarations probably will be critical of some aspects of President Johnson's program.

Although the Republicans are having difficulty preserving a unified front on such matters as state bans on the union shop, they are expected to find others on which the 23-member committee can agree easily.

Meanwhile, Ray C. Bliss, chairman of the coordinating group and GOP national chairman, has announced the National Committee will meet in Washington June 28-29.

With former GOP presidential nominees scheduled to sit in on the sessions, the coordinating committee will sift the recommendations of task forces on federal-state relationships, human rights, job opportunities, fiscal matters and the conduct of foreign relations.

It will be the first session attended by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Former nominees Thomas E. Dewey, Richard M. Nixon and Barry M. Goldwater are expected to be on hand. Only former Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas indicated he couldn't come.

Members of the committee from the House are expected to press for a declaration calling for linking a reduction in federal spending with a proposed cut of about $5 billion in excise taxes.

Busy Week Is Awaiting Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returned from its long Memorial Day weekend today to face a busy week involving several major votes.

The House schedule was by far the busier.

On tap today was a vote on a $2-billion appropriation for the State, Justice and Commerce departments. Little debate was expected.

Wednesday, the House takes up the proposed $4.8-billion cut in federal excise taxes. This would eliminate most excises during the next four years, including the 10 per cent tax on automobiles.

Also on the House calendar this week are measures to continue the President's power to propose, subject to congressional veto, reorganizations of executive departments and to increase the national debt limit from $324 billion to $328 billion.

The Senate's major business today is a vote on an administration economic development bill designed to stimulate business in economically depressed areas. It would provide $3 billion over five years.

Later in the week, the Senate will consider the $3.37-billion foreign aid authorization approved by the House last week.

Science fiction film fans could have the time of their lives in Trieste, Italy, from June 10 to 17 this year. Dozens of the fantasy movies will be shown in an International Festival of Sci-Fun-Fantasy Films organized by the local tourist bureau.

CHS Hurdler Places Fifth In State High School Event

Circleville's Jim Wood qualified with ease for the finals in the 120-yard high hurdles and the 180-yard low hurdles in Saturday's State High School track meet at Ohio State University.

However, the Tiger timber toppler failed to match his previous best efforts in the events. He finished fifth in the low hurdles and sixth in the highs.

Wood is the first modern day Circleville athlete to place in the state track meet.

Racing with the best runners in the state, Wood was third in his qualifying heat of the high hurdles with a time of 14.9. In the lows he turned in a time of 20.8 and finished second in his qualifying heat.

DURING his high school career, Wood has broken practically every area record in the hurdles.

In the South Central Ohio League, he established marks of 19.1 and 14.9. He also tied the league record with a 22 second 220-yard dash in this year's meet and was the only triple winner.

Included among his laurels are records in both events at the regional track meet, held for the first time at Worthington High School's all weather track.

Wood plans to attend Massanutten Military Academy at Woodstock, Va., prior to going to college. He will be eligible to compete in athletics there.

The slender athlete was three times winner of the "most valuable player" trophy awarded by the Circleville Booster Club. It is the only time in Tiger history a competitor has won the honor three years.

Tribe Splits Double Bill With Chisox

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, who were talking about pulling up stakes and moving last year, drew their biggest holiday crowd in nine years Monday when 23,565 fans turned out for the doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox.

The big crowd boosted total attendance for 17 home games to 185,933—19,708 better than for the corresponding number of games last year.

The fans saw the Indians blow a three-run lead in the first game, losing 4-3 in the 10th inning, but come back to edge the White Sox by the same score in the nightcap.

Vic Davalillo, smallest man on the squad, was the hero of the second game, making a brilliant catch of a potential home run ball behind the centerfield fence in the first inning and scampering home with the winning run on a throwing error in the ninth.

A home run by Larry Brown and a two-run single by Pedro Gonzalez gave the Indians a 3-2 lead going into the top of the ninth inning.

But the White Sox tied it up in the ninth when Bill Skowron and pinch hitter Al Weis hit singles off Luis Tiant.

Davalillo opened the Indians' half of the ninth with a double off Bruce Howard, the fifth Chicago pitcher. Joe Azcue tried a sacrifice bunt, and Howard, hurrying his throw to try to catch the speedy Davalillo, threw into left field and Vic came romping home.

Reds Lose 6 of 9 on Road Trip

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds were back home today, trying to recuperate from a disastrous western trip during which they lost six games in a row and won three. The Reds finally broke their losing streak Monday when they split a doubleheader at Los Angeles. They lost the first game, 4-3, and beat the Dodgers 6-1, in the nightcap.

Joey Jay won that one, giving up only three hits and going all the way for the first time since April 21. He had been effective in two games as a reliever before Manager Dick Sisler gave the big righthander his chance to pitching himself out of the bullpen. Jay is now 3-1.

Cincinnati grabbed a three-run lead in the opener, but the Dodgers tied the score and won it in the ninth when Maury Wills hit a single with the bases loaded. It was his fourth hit of the game.

Toronto Setting Torrid IL Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The red hot pace being set by the Toronto Maple Leafs may be beginning to tell on the other seven teams in the International League.

Toronto, which swept a doubleheader from Rochester Monday, has won 11 of its last 14 games and finally has opened a 1½ game lead over Atlanta in the pennant race.

The Leafs beat Rochester 3-2 and 1-0 while Atlanta split a double-header with Columbus, winning the first game 3-0 and losing the nightcap 9-7. In other games, Syracuse defeated Buffalo 6-3 and Jacksonville stopped Toledo 8-6 in 12 innings.

Cox Wins Handicap at Lansdowne

The Upper Lansdowne Golf Links handicap tournament Saturday was won by Garner Cox. Cox, currently carrying a six handicap at the course, toured the Lansdowne links in a 35 and 42 for a 77 total. His one under par on the first nine marks the second time par has been broken on the course.

Second place in the tournament went to 12-year-old Van Gregg, who carded a 72 net score. The son of well known Teays Valley coach Russ Gregg Van carries a 21 handicap. He had rounds of 48 and 45 in the tournament.

Dick Peters and Herb Pettibone tied for third. Peters had a 45-43-88 gross and a 74 net while Pettibone had a 42-43 gross for a 74 net.

RON LEATHERWOOD, who sports a three handicap, the lowest at the course, put together rounds of 39 and 43 for an 82 total gross score.

Cox was the winner of the first flite of the club championship last year.

Giants' Hurler No Longer Splinters Bats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gaylord Perry, best known for the pitch he made against a dugout wall, has found he's more effective aiming at the catcher.

The 26-year-old San Francisco right-hander strayed off target in the first inning Monday when he allowed two hits, but he settled down quickly and held St. Louis hitless over the final 8 2-3 innings as the Giants stretched their winning streak to five games with a 4-1 triumph.

It was the best performance of the season for Perry, who put on quite an act last year when he precipitated the zany case of the many-splintered bat.

In a game at Houston, he was tagged for a game-winning hit by Nellie Fox and immediately stormed off the mound, picked up Fox' bat and threw it against the concrete dugout.

The concrete dugout didn't give. The bat did. And Perry was billed by the Houston club for the cost of the bat, $2.98.

Apparently, he's learned his lesson well. Instead of splintering bats, he's taken to stilling them. In his last three starts, he has allowed only five runs for a 1.80 earned-run average while bringing his record to 5-3 and moving in behind Juan Marichal as a stopper for the Giants.

The Giants' victory moved them to within three games of the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers, who split a doubleheader with Cincinnati, winning the opener 4-3 before Joey Ray ended the Mets' six-game losing streak with a three-hit, 6-1 nightcap triumph.

Pittsburgh, meanwhile, ran its winning streak to 11 games by defeating Philadelphia 5-2. Houston topped Milwaukee 7-2 and the New York Mets downed the Chicago Cubs 5-2 before the second game was halted by darkness after nine innings with the score tied 3-3. It will have to be replayed.

In the American League, Washington took two from Kansas City 5-2 and 5-1, Minnesota blanked Baltimore 6-0 before the Orioles won 5-4, the Chicago White Sox edged Cleveland 4-3 in 10 innings but the Indians won the nightcap 4-3, the New York Yankees downed Detroit 3-1 before losing 5-1 and Boston shut out Los Angeles 3-0 after the Angels won the opener 5-3.

Flying Scot Wins '500' Grind as 22 of 33 Cars Fail

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —The bagpipers played long and loudly for Scot Jimmy Clark's record-smashing big Indianapolis 500-mile auto-race triumph in a safe, sane but mechanically fatal Memorial Day motor classic.

It was the first victory by a foreigner since the 1916 race was won by Italy's Dario Resta.

However, paeans also sounded for the greatest showing by rookie drivers, who won five of the first nine places in Monday's methodical grind which bowled out ailing machines like ten-pins.

The new breed of rear-engine speedsters, 27 in all against four one-time Offenhauser roadsters and two ill-fated Novis, was far less durable than the new breed of drivers.

Twenty-two cars were knocked out of the race, most of them before it was half finished, leaving only 11 running when Clark won with a record average of 150.686 m.p.h., about five miles ahead of runner-up Parnelli Jones of Torrance Calif., the 1963 champion.

Nine of 17 rear-engine Fords and nine of 10 rear-engine Offys limped off the track. Two of the four Offy roadsters finished, but neither Novi did.

Third was Italian-born rookie Mario Andretti, now from Nazareth, Pa., who as well as Clark and Jones shattered the former record of 147.35 m.p.h. set by 1964 winner A. J. Foyt, of Houston, Tex.

Luckless Foyt, Monday's pole driver and also 1961 champion, virtually handed the race to Clark when the transmission failed on his modified Lotus-Ford after battling the Scot closely for 290 miles.

Then, all the slick-driving bachelor farmer from Duns, Scotland, had to do was keep his snarling green and yellow Lotus-Ford on the beam for a no-contest triumph.

That set off a screeching band of bagpipers, led by two tethered Scottish terriers.

The last half of the 200 whirls around the 2½-mile Speedway found the more than 220,000 fans applauding the tight second-place battle between Jones and Andretti.

With a cupful of fuel in his tank, Jones loafed under the checkered flag with a 149.2 m.p.h. average for second and the 25-year-old Andretti, also driving a rear-engine Ford, was third with 149.1 m.p.h.

Jones, who loaded only 25 gallons in his 55-gallon-capacity car in his last pit stop, ran out of fuel on the post-finish lap.

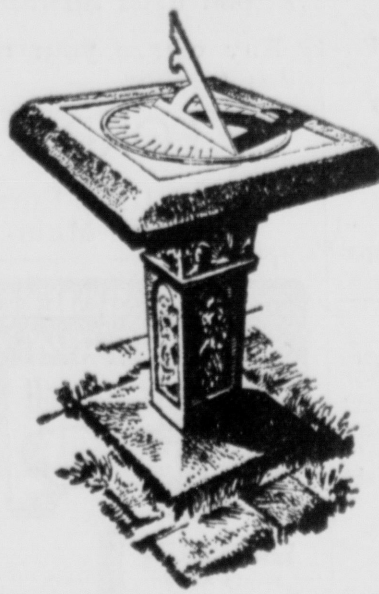

Behind Andretti, other placing rookies were Gordon Johncock, Hastings, Mich., fifth; Mickey Rupp, Mansfield, Ohio, sixth; Bobby Johns, Miami, Fla., eighth; and Al Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., ninth.

Fourth went to Al Miller, "sophomore" driver from St. Louis, Mo., while Don Branson, Champaign, Ill., making his seventh start, was seventh; Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, 12-year veteran, 10th; and Len Sutton, Portland, Ore., starting a seventh time, was 11th in the only surviving entry.

Clark gets his slice of about a $600,000 purse at tonight's victory party. Last year, winner Foyt's share was $153,650, based on a total prize melon of $506,625.

Thomas Hooper of Lancaster, Pa., has been reelected captain of Dartmouth's swimming team. He's a junior.

The average age of managers in the American League this season is 47. At 56, Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox is the senior both in years and in service.

Davalillo opened the Indians' half of the ninth with a double off Bruce Howard, the fifth Chicago pitcher. Joe Azcue tried a sacrifice bunt, and Howard, hurrying his throw to try to catch the speedy Davalillo, threw into left field and Vic came romping home.

Reds Lose 6 of 9 on Road Trip

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds were back home today, trying to recuperate from a disastrous western trip during which they lost six games in a row and won three.

The Reds finally broke their losing streak Monday when they split a doubleheader at Los Angeles. They lost the first game, 4-3, and beat the Dodgers 6-1, in the nightcap.

Joey Jay won that one, giving up only three hits and going all the way for the first time since April 21. He had been effective in two games as a reliever before Manager Dick Sisler gave the big righthander his chance to pitching himself out of the bullpen. Jay is now 3-1.

Cincinnati grabbed a three-run lead in the opener, but the Dodgers tied the score and won it in the ninth when Maury Wills hit a single with the bases loaded. It was his fourth hit of the game.

Cox Wins Handicap at Lansdowne

The Upper Lansdowne Golf Links handicap tournament Saturday was won by Garner Cox.

Cox, currently carrying a six handicap at the course, toured the Lansdowne links in a 35 and 42 for a 77 total. His one under par on the first nine marks the second time par has been broken on the course.

Second place in the tournament went to 12-year-old Van Gregg, who carded a 72 net score. The son of well known Teays Valley coach Russ Gregg Van carries a 21 handicap. He had rounds of 48 and 45 in the tournament.

Dick Peters and Herb Pettibone tied for third. Peters had a 45-43-88 gross and a 74 net while Pettibone had a 42-43 gross for a 74 net.

RON LEATHERWOOD, who sports a three handicap, the lowest at the course, put together rounds of 39 and 43 for an 82 total gross score.

Cox was the winner of the first flite of the club championship last year.

Giants' Hurler No Longer Splinters Bats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gaylord Perry, best known for the pitch he made against a dugout wall, has found he's more effective aiming at the catcher.

The 26-year-old San Francisco right-hander strayed off target in the first inning Monday when he allowed two hits, but he settled down quickly and held St. Louis hitless over the final 8-2-3 innings as the Giants stretched their winning streak to five games with a 4-1 triumph.

It was the best performance of the season for Perry, who put on quite an act last year when he precipitated the zany case of the many-splintered bat.

In a game at Houston, he was tagged for a game-winning hit by Nellie Fox and immediately stormed off the mound, picked up Fox' bat and threw it against the concrete dugout.

The concrete dugout didn't give. The bat did. And Perry was billed by the Houston club for the cost of the bat, $2.98.

Apparently, he's learned his lesson well. Instead of splintering bats, he's taken to stilling them. In his last three starts, he has allowed only five runs for a 1.80 earned-run average while bringing his record to 5-3 and moving in behind Juan Marichal as a stopper for the Giants.

The Giants' victory moved them to within three games of the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers, who split a doubleheader with Cincinnati, winning the opener 4-3 before Joey Ray ended the Mets' six-game losing streak with a three-hit, 6-1 nightcap triumph.

Pittsburgh, meanwhile, ran its winning streak to 11 games by defeating Philadelphia 5-2. Houston topped Milwaukee 7-2 and the New York Mets downed the Chicago Cubs 5-2 before the second game was halted by darkness after nine innings with the score tied 3-3. It will have to be replayed.

In the American League, Washington took two from Kansas City 5-2 and 5-1, Minnesota blanked Baltimore 6-0 before the Orioles won 5-4, the Chicago White Sox edged Cleveland 4-3 in 10 innings but the Indians won the nightcap 4-3, the New York Yankees downed Detroit 3-1 before losing 5-1 and Boston shut out Los Angeles 3-0 after the Angels won the opener 5-3.

Flying Scot Wins '500' Grind as 22 of 33 Cars Fail

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The bagpipes played long and loudly for Scot Jimmy Clark's record-smashing big Indianapolis 500-mile auto-race triumph in a safe, sane but mechanically fatal Memorial Day motor classic.

It was the first victory by a foreigner since the 1916 race was won by Italy's Dario Resta. However, paeans also sounded for the greatest showing by rookie drivers, who won five of the first nine places in Monday's methodical grind which bowled out ailing machines like ten-pins.

The new breed of rear-engine speedsters, 27 in all against four one-time Offenhauser roadsters and two ill-fated Novis, was far less durable than the new breed of drivers.

Twenty-two cars were knocked out of the race, most of them before it was half finished, leaving only 11 running when Clark won with a record average of 150.686 m.p.h., about five miles ahead of runner-up Parnelli Jones of Torrance Calif., the 1963 champion.

Nine of 17 rear-engine Fords and nine of 10 rear-engine Offys limped off the track. Two of the four Offy roadsters finished, but neither Novi did.

Third was Italian-born rookie Mario Andretti, now from Nazareth, Pa., who as well as Clark and Jones shattered the former record of 147.35 m.p.h. set by 1964 winner A. J. Foyt, of Houston, Tex.

Luckless Foyt, Monday's pole driver and also 1961 champion, virtually handed the race to Clark when the transmission failed on his modified Lotus-Ford after battling the Scot closely for 290 miles.

Then, all the slick-driving bachelor farmer from Duns, Scotland, had to do was keep his snarling green and yellow Lotus-Ford on the beam for a no-contest triumph.

That set off a screeching band of bagpipers, led by two tethered Scottish terriers.

The last half of the 200 whirls around the 2½-mile Speedway found the more than 220,000 fans applauding the tight second-place battle between Jones and Andretti.

With a cupful of fuel in his tank, Jones loafed under the checkered flag with a 149.2 m.p.h. average for second and the 25-year-old Andretti, also driving a rear-engine Ford, was third with 149.1 m.p.h.

Jones, who loaded only 25 gallons in his 55-gallon-capacity car in his last pit stop, ran out of fuel on the post-finish lap.

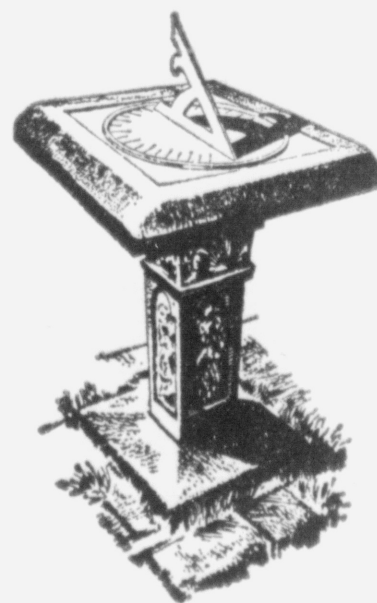

Behind Andretti, other placing rookies were Gordon Johncock, Hastings, Mich., fifth; Mickey Rupp, Mansfield, Ohio, sixth; Bobby Johns, Miami, Fla., eighth; and Al Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., ninth.

Fourth went to Al Miller, "sophomore" driver from Standish, Mich., while Don Branson, Champaign, Ill., making his seventh start, was seventh; Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, 12-year veteran, 10th; and Len Sutton, Portland, Ore., starting a seventh time, was 11th in the only surviving entry.

Clark gets his slice of about a $600,000 purse at tonight's victory party. Last year, winner Foyt's share was $153,650, based on a total prize melon of $506,625.

Thomas Hooper of Lancaster, Pa., has been reelected captain of Dartmouth's swimming team. He's a junior.

The average age of managers in the American League this season is 47. At 56, Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox is the senior both in years and in service.

Court Makes Disposition On 25 Cases

Twenty-five cases were disposed of during May by Pickaway County Common Pleas Court, according to a report released today by Sarah M. Dresbach, clerk.

The report also noted that 38 new cases were filed during the month making a total of 196 cases pending action at the outset of the new month; 183 cases were pending on May 1.

Of the 25 cases that were completed, six were divorce actions, 11 were other civil suits and eight were criminal matters. Cases filed during the month included 13 divorces, 13 civil suits and 12 criminal cases.

Method of disposition included ten cases that were tried to court; none were tried before a jury; four were cognovit and default judgments; and 11 cases were settled or dismissed.

New cases were filed during May for the Fourth District Court of Appeals and one case was pending at the beginning of the month. No cases were heard by the appellate court therefore three cases were pending action on May 31.

2 Local Men Arrested in Mississippi

Two Pickaway County men, wanted by Franklin County authorities in connection with a recent armed robbery at Harrisburg, were apprehended yesterday in Dumas, Miss.

The apprehension was made through information supplied to the Franklin County Sheriff's Department by Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

The men were identified as Glenn Bolling, Brown St., and Arlie Anderson, Commercial Point.

Sheriff Radcliff said the pair allegedly held up a market at Harrisburg, fleeing with $118. The car used in the burglary was recovered the next day in Darbyville by Radcliff.

It was through the registration of the car, photos and descriptions of the two persons supplied by the local department, that the two men were identified.

Radcliff also relayed the information to Columbus that the pair was in Mississippi.

Court Makes Disposition On 25 Cases

Twenty-five cases were disposed of during May by Pickaway County Common Pleas Court, according to a report released today by Sarah M. Dresbach, clerk.

The report also noted that 38 new cases were filed during the month making a total of 196 cases pending action at the outset of the new month; 183 cases were pending on May 1.

Of the 25 cases that were completed, six were divorce actions, 11 were other civil suits and eight were criminal matters. Cases filed during the month included 13 divorces, 13 civil suits and 12 criminal cases.

Method of disposition included ten cases that were tried to court; none were tried before a jury; four were cognovit and default judgements; and 11 cases were settled or dismissed.

New cases were filed during May for the Fourth District Court of Appeals and one case was pending at the beginning of the month. No cases were heard by the appellate court therefore three cases were pending action on May 31.

City Firemen Answer 2 Calls

The Circleville Fire Department yesterday answered two calls.

The first came at 5:45 p. m. when a motor overheated at Berger Hospital. There was no damage.

At 7:05 p. m. an automobile caught on fire when it backfired through the carburetor at 115 Mingo St. Damage was estimated at $20 by the department. The auto belonged to Ora Adams Jr.
